Worth Repeating: Coast Guard Appointed Experts Ask for Validation of On-Water Paddling Standards Which Apply to Trainers and Teachers for Rafting, Canoeing, Kayaking

Who should give this issue careful attention: On-Water teachers or trainers are urged to participate in an on-line survey designed to collect feedback on the content of these "voluntary" entry-level, skill-based standards/rubrics for manually propelled boating.

A team of experts assembled with U.S. Coast Guard (USCG) grant funding seeks national content validation of HUMAN (manually propelled) boat operation standards/rubrics that will be freely available to the boating public. This is your opportunity to impact the development of free recreational paddling and rowing (canoes, kayaks, rowboats, paddleboards, etc.) standards/rubrics that can be voluntarily used by educators when developing boating courses. You may participate by completing this on-line survey.

WHAT: The National On-Water Standards Team, funded by USCG grants, is seeking input from recreational paddling and rowing educators across the nation on set of rubrics used to describe Human-propelled boating skills at the entry level. Following the survey, the rubrics will be updated to reflect input from paddling and rowing nationwide and eventually be validated and updated through a national field-testing program.

Legal Authority for Outfitter Permits (FLREA) Expected to be Introduced in the House of Representatives Soon

Each year AOA organizes a fly-in to Washington, DC to deal with issues which are critical to the industry. This year the focus was the reauthorization of the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act, which is the authority for permitting outfitters and guides in National Forests, on BLM lands and on Refuges. The legislation provides vague authority for issuing outfitter and guide permits, which needs to be strengthened. The original legislation passed Congress in 2005. It primarily authorizes agency recreation fee collection for use of their facilities and services and enables each agency to retain those fees presumably to support recreation activities.

We learned that a discussion version of FLREA will be introduced soon in the House with hearings to follow. A group of outfitters also stressed the importance of development of a more complete strategy for road and trail maintenance. Yosemite Restores Bike and Rentals in Plan to Limit Access to Yosemite Valley

A court ordered rewrite of the management plan to protect the Merced Wild and Scenic River corridor will not eliminate raft and bike rentals after all. The plan caps visitors to the Valley at 21,000 during peak periods and moves some facilities out of the river corridor. Shuttles will replace some of the vehicle traffic.

Do You Have an Employee Safety Plan Approved by Your State Workers Comp Program?

One of our members who was put in the assigned risk pool for workers comp after insurers pulled out of the market learned recently that he had to have a safety training program for his employees. Anyone who has one they are willing to share (that has been accepted by your state), please email it to dbrown@americaoutdoors.org. Thanks.
